BALTIC AND EURASIA PROGRAMME

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

This clinically oriented educational programme is designed for medical, clinical and radiation oncologists who wish to improve their skills in multidisciplinary care management. The programme will expose participants to a full spectrum of issues in clinical oncology and practice-orientated training focusing on lung, genito-urinary, breast, head-and-neck, gastrointestinal, gynaecological cancers. Spotlight sessions will facilitate compact update on how to diagnose and treat neuroendocrine tumors, cancer of unknown primary, management of chemotherapy-induced nausea and vomiting, melanoma and communication skills.

TEACHING FORMAT

The Masterclass offers plenary lectures discussing current issues and controversies as well as critically reviewing significant therapeutic development. State-of-the-art data recognised by ESMO and other evidence-based guidelines will be cited. Participants will deliver case presentations within tumour board basis and discuss them with the chairs and the faculty. Additional time will be allocated for participants to deliver case presentations within small groups and receive feedback.

As for all Masterclasses, the number of participants will be limited and admission will be by competitive application only.

All participants will reside at the course venue and participation is compulsory throughout the course. The Masterclass will be entirely in English and at least an intermediate level of English is necessary for admission.

THE MASTERCLASS IS:

- Full immersion
- Clinically-oriented
- Multidisciplinary
- An international faculty of top experts delivering lectures focusing on lung, genito-urinary, breast, head-and-neck, gastrointestinal and gynaecological cancers.

PARTICIPANT'S PROFILE OF THE MASTERCLASS CANDIDATE

- Age up to 40 years
- At least 2-3 years' experience in medical or clinical oncology
- This event is designed to meet the educational needs of participants practicing in Baltic and Eurasian countries
- Involvement in scientific activities
- Intermediate level of English

ATTENDANCE TO THE MASTERCLASS IS BY APPLICATION ONLY

Successful applicants are granted free registration and accommodation

APPLICATION DEADLINE: 29 MARCH 2020

Information and online application are available at www.eso.net

HOW TO APPLY

Interested oncologists should apply online at www.eso.net providing:

- Letter describing motivation for attending;
- Supporting letter from head of department or mentor;
- CV with list publications (if the list of publications is not provided, it will be assumed that no articles have been published)
- Clinical case (see below)

Priority will be given to applicants practicing in Baltic and Eurasian countries.

CLINICAL CASE PRESENTATION

Submit an abstract of one page on the template provided at www.eso.net or on the application form describing a clinical case related to one of the subjects of the Masterclass (lung, genitourinary, breast, head-and-neck, gastrointestinal and gynaecological cancers). You will have to present your case at the Masterclass in format of a clinical grand round discussion. Please provide straightforward a case of your daily clinical practice - no uncommon or extremely rare cases. A maximum of 10 slides will be permitted containing:

- Diagnostic considerations
- Treatment
- Results, follow-up
- At least three questions proposed for discussion with the faculty

Participants will be asked to bring their personal laptop or tablet (wireless enabled) to the Masterclass as an event-dedicated website will be created and all questionnaires and certificates will be accessible only from there. Any potential problems with meeting this request should be communicated to the secretariat as part of the application process.
